

CREATE VIBRANT HEALTH

Infoceuticals are proprietary remedies from NES Health™ that provide energy and corrective information to the Human Body-Field to improve how well it's functioning. Since we see the Body-Field as the master control system to the rest of the human body, we believe this is the future of wellness, addressing health concerns from their roots.

How & When to Take Infoceuticals

Your NES Health practitioner should have provided a protocol showing what Infoceuticals to take and how many drops of each to take every day. These can all be taken at once in a single glass of water or separately if you prefer, as long as the entire protocol is taken each day.

Ideally take them by lunchtime or early afternoon since some Infoceuticals may provide more energy and make it difficult to sleep. However, it's best to take Night and Sleep Infoceuticals sometime after sunset.

Infoceuticals can be taken with or without food, and their results aren't affected by drinking coffee, brushing teeth, taking nutritional supplements, etc.

Responses to Infoceuticals

Most people will experience positive changes in their state of wellness when taking Infoceuticals over time. However, positive change sometimes involves short-term healing responses. This is because the body's innate healing mechanisms are being provided the energy and correct information they were previously lacking to go through a healing process.

This is similar to having symptoms during a cold. It is the sign of a healthy immune system response, and it's how you're returned to a healthy state.

Although it's rare, if your healing response ever feels too strong or fast for your comfort level, you can speak with your practitioner about reducing the number of drops you're taking until you can build back up to your standard protocol. You can also take an Infoceutical called ESR to help smooth out the response. You can take up to 30 drops of ESR up to 3 times a day. It's always useful to keep some on hand.

Infoceutical Ingredients & Expirations

The energy and information imprinted in Infoceuticals will not expire, but to limit the possibility of bacterial contamination, we suggest consuming them within two months of opening them. They may be refrigerated to help prolong their safe consumption, but refrigeration is not required.

Infoceuticals are not affected by x-rays or other security scans, so they may safely be shipped or taken with you if you travel.

Ingredients:

Purified water • Himalayan Sea Salt (1%) or 0.29574 mL/oz • Potassium Chloride (1.5%) or 0.44361 mL/oz • Magnesium Chloride (1%) or 0.29574 mL/oz • Potassium Sorbate (0.2%) or 0.059148 mL/oz • Citric Acid (0.1%) or 0.029574 mL/oz

The citric acid in our Infoceuticals is derived from non-GMO corn. It is not considered a “corn based” product, as the process does not leave any trace of corn proteins in the final product. People with severe corn allergies may still choose to avoid corn derived ingredients.
